

Governor Walker In Final Message To Solons Today

Thursday Legislative Sessions See Wrangle in House; First Bills Offered in Senate.

RULES' ADOPTION STARTS DISPUTE

Committee Appointments Expected Monday After Which Steady Lawmaking Grind Will Begin.

Members of the two branches of the Georgia legislature will meet in joint session Friday to hear the final message to be delivered by Governor Clifford Walker prior to his retirement from office at noon Saturday, when he will be succeeded by Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce.

The governor's retiring speech is the principal event scheduled for the legislature Friday. It is expected that the governor will reiterate his plea for more support for educational institutions, for relief for underprivileged persons and for a vision in government less local and more state-wide in character.

Important Bills Today.

Interest in the Friday session also will center around the introduction of some important bills, the first of which will be a measure written by Representative Cecil Neill, of Milledgeville, which will provide that all state funds, no matter from what source collected, shall be paid into the state treasury. This is an administrative measure and is in line with the policies of Governor-elect Hardman. The measure will in all probability be the first bill introduced in the house at the 1927 session.

Two other bills will be introduced by Representative Neill Friday. One of these provides that all county elections shall be held on the last Wednesday in May. Heretofore no special date has been fixed for holding such primaries and they have been held at various dates during the election year, scattered from January to December. The other bill to be introduced by Representative Neill will authorize the governor to use for state purposes all unexpended balances of money derived under his borrowing power up to $3,000,000. This measure is simply designed to save the state from the remedial legislation fostered by Eugene Talmadge, who will take the oath as commissioner of agriculture Saturday.

Highway Bill In.

Chief features of interest at the sessions Thursday were the introduction of a bill calling for reorganization of the state highway department in the senate by Senator A. H. Thompson, of Troup county, and the development of the first spirited wrangle in the house over a question of the rules. Otherwise the sessions were almost purely routine in character.

President Ed B. Dykes, of the senate, and Speaker Richard B. Russell, Jr., of the house, are busy working on the new committees and they will announce the personnel of these committees as the first order of business Monday. After the new governor is inaugurated Saturday and the permanent standing committee of the two houses are appointed Monday the legislature will be ready to begin in earnest the labors of the 1927 session.

Honor House Members.

In the house Thursday honors were paid several members of the legislature. Representative H. H. Kempton, of Fulton, was permitted, in a resolution adopted, to select any seat in the house for the session. Another resolution was adopted permitting W. Cecil Neill, former speaker, Judge J. J. Flynn, former president of the senate, and Representative Semmes Wright, of Floyd, to select their permanent seats. All other seats then were selected by the members by lot. The first wrangle in the house came when a motion was made that the

Indictment of Women Features Margot's Book

Chicago, June 23.—(United News.) Some ladies, according to Margot Asquith, wife of the former British prime minister, are feminine; very few are gentlewomen.

Margot's indictment of her sex appears in her new book, "Lay Sermons," published in London. Reports of the publication reaching here have caused a sensation.

"With the exception of a very few women," reads one of the epigrammatic excerpts "I can truthfully say I have seldom met a 'gentleman' among my own sex."

"When I say a woman is 'feminine,' I mean she is spiteful and even merciless."

"Women may be truthful in the sense that they will not lie, but they are hardly ever candid."

"Women, like cats, are only domestic animals and are impossible to tame."

"Men are like children. When they are in love they are amateurs and easily deceived, but women are

U. S. OFFICIALS AND LINDBERGH DISCUSS PLANS

Air Conqueror Meets Secretary Hoover for First Time on His Second Trip to Washington.

FLIER TO DEVOTE LIFE TO AVIATION

Secretaries Seek Information on Lindy's Observations While Crossing Atlantic Ocean.

BY ALFRED P. RECK.

Washington, June 23.—(United News.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will devote his life to the development of commercial aviation, announced today, after a conference with the secretary of the War Department.

But whether his plans will be carried out through lectures, aerial flying or construction of planes, probably will be determined in a series of conferences now being held between Colonel Lindbergh, Assistant Secretary MacCracken, in charge of aviation; Assistant Secretary Warner, of the navy department; and Harry E. Knight, of St. Louis, one of the backers of the Paris flight.

The conferences started this afternoon a few hours after Colonel Lindbergh landed at Bolling field from Dayton, Ohio. The youthful flier, the three assistant secretaries, Knight, Captain Emory Land, assistant chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics; Major T. G. Langhorne, of the U. S. army flying corps; and Lieutenant R. W. Douglas, of the chief of army air corps office, boarded the secretary of navy's yacht Sylph for a three-hour cruise down the peaceful Potomac.

Meets Hoover.

Secretary Hoover conferred with Lindbergh approximately two hours. Afterwards Lindbergh said he intended to devote his life to the development of commercial aviation. He came to Washington to discuss the development of aviation with myself and Assistant Secretaries MacCracken and Drake. Colonel Lindbergh's interest lies in the development of a definite commercial air service program and he proposes to devote himself to such activities.

"His final plans are not yet fully decided. They are now being worked out by Lindbergh and the assistant secretaries. I believe, however, they will be of definite and practical value as Colonel Lindbergh is a young man who stands with both feet on the ground at all times."

Today was the first that Secretary Hoover and Colonel Lindbergh met and the conference chief expressed himself as captivated, as have hundreds of thousands.

"He is a remarkable boy," Hoover said. "We want to do all possible to aid him in his work and for that reason."

TWO QUESTIONED IN NISBET DEATH

Victim's Daughter and Wife's Father Called Before Solicitor; Bond Hearing Postponed.

Active investigation by detectives of the Atlanta police department in the fatal wounding of Charles D. Nisbet, who was found shot in the head at his home in Hapeville Tuesday morning, resulted in calling Katie Nisbet, 14-year-old daughter of the victim, and O. B. Taylor, father of Mrs. Nisbet, to the solicitor's office Thursday afternoon for questioning.

City Detectives Starnes and Landford, who are cooperating with the Hapeville department, and the solicitor questioned them at length. The nature of the questioning and any results obtained were closely guarded.

Hearing on an application for bond for Mrs. Nisbet, held in Davis-Fischer sanitarium under guard in connection with the death of her husband, was postponed until Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when called Thursday before Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court.

The petition for bail was filed by Sam Hewlett, Atlanta attorney, who has been retained by relatives of Mrs. Nisbet. Judge Moore continued the hearing when it was pointed out that Mrs. Nisbet at the present time was in the hospital, and even if bond was allowed she would be unable to leave the hospital.

An agreement as to the amount of the bond is expected to be reached before the hearing, thus relieving the necessity of a prolonged hearing in open court, Judge Moore said.

America Seeking Support Against England

Five Million Suit Is Filed Against Gish

Lillian Is Made Defendant in Action by Her Former Fiance.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Los Angeles, Cal., June 23.—Charles H. Duell, New York film producer, who formerly was both employer and fiance of Lillian Gish, according to his legal papers, this afternoon filed a $5,000,000 suit against the wistful actress and others in superior court here.

The suit is filed under the name of Charles H. Duell, Inc. Besides Lillian Gish, who, he says, jilted him and took a $25,000 work for acting roles for somebody else, Duell's papers name as defendants, Lillian's mother, Mrs. Mary R. Gish, and various individuals and corporations.

Duell charges that Lillian Gish, the Metro-Goldwyn picture corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Loew's, Inc., Nick Schenck, Louis B. Mayer and Attorneys Louis Levy and J. Robert Rubin, of New York, conspired to deprive him of Miss Gish's screen services and to ruin him financially and professionally. The result of this, his complaint sets forth, was to do him $3,000,000 actual damages. In addition he asks $2,000,000 punitive damages.

Duell, who is in Hollywood endeavoring to speed his action to a quick trial, accompanied his legal papers with the following:

"My complaint speaks for itself of three years of corruption and hypocrisy on every hand. An expose of consequences as far-reaching as the film industry has ever faced will be the outcome. It will shock the country and reach every self-respecting home in the land."

Duell went to court in New York in 1926 in an effort to enforce his contract with Miss Gish. He failed in an attempt to secure damages in that action. A charge of perjury later was lodged against him but was dismissed. Part of Duell's complaint states that in January, 1924, Duell became engaged to marry Miss Gish. He was through his promotion, direction and advice that Miss Gish became one of the most famous of all screen attractions.

FILM COMPANIES SLASH SALARIES

16 Organizations Join in Reduction; Suits Charging Conspiracy May Be Filed by Actors.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Hollywood, Calif., June 23.—Sixteen motion picture producing corporations, which between them embrace practically every "famous name" in the movie business, today banded to slash the salaries of "stars, directors, actors, writers and other artists," and likewise agreed to cut the salaries of "executives, departmental heads and producers themselves."

A statement by Fred Beets, in charge of Hollywood headquarters of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, made the decision official and binding on the industry. The decision to shrink the payroll of "artists" was reached when President Will Hays and the producers conferred here during Hays' recent western trip.

According to Beets, the producers expect a protest from the actors, but they feel themselves in control of the situation. Beets says the retrenchment in salaries as well as other production economies are considered vital to prevent the standard of American films from falling.

Beets said that he has not seen Frank Gilmore, president of the Actors' Equity association, who is in Hollywood, and that Gilmore has not made known any grounds of protest from contract actors unwilling to accept "voluntary reductions" in salaries.

Suits charging the producers with conspiracy to prevent actors from getting salaries as per contract and other suits charging the producers with understandings to prevent actors from getting future contracts, are expected as a result of today's move. Many actors explained they have been told that "if old experienced actors won't take the cut, there are plenty of young ones to step into their places."

Part of the producers' pressure, it is said, is to refuse to assign roles to contract stars who refuse to accept lower salaries, even though the producers continue to pay salaries, as stipulated, for the life of the contract.

The companies signing today's wage-cutting proclamation are: Christie Comedies; DeMille Pictures corporation; F. B. O.; First National; Fox; Goldwyn, Inc.; Harold Lloyd corporation; Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Metropolitan Pictures corporation; Paramount-Famous-Lasky; Hal Roach; Mack Sennett; United Artists; Universal; Warner Brothers, and Jack White comedies.

Constable Rogers said he would go to Columbia tomorrow to make a report to Governor Richards on the case. He added that the investigation which has been under way for nearly a fortnight, was virtually closed, but said that he would return here next week some time to arrange for final preparation of the case for the courts.

STORM DELAYS START OF BYRD ACROSS OCEAN

More Than 5,000 Persons Had Assembled at Roosevelt Field To Witness America's Hop-Off.

NO CHANCE SEEN FOR FLIGHT TODAY

Weather Man Says Conditions Will Not Be Favorable for Start Before Saturday at Earliest.

BY SAM LOVE.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 24.—(Friday.)—(United News.)—The Byrd trans-Atlantic flight was again postponed early this morning.

Ready in every detail, the tri-motorized Fokker "America," loaded with fuel, provisioned against every contingency, waiting only for her gallant crew of four to step aboard and for Commander Richard Byrd to raise his arm, was on the runway when unfavorable weather conditions caused a sudden postponement.

Byrd Disappointed.

It was a bitter disappointment to Byrd and the three men who were to make the trip with him.

Reluctantly, shortly after midnight, Byrd announced that a severe storm which developed over the Newfoundland coast "definitely postponed" the American flight until better weather conditions prevail.

Commander Byrd had been snatching a last sleep in preparation for the trans-oceanic vigil, but was awakened at midnight to receive a weather report from Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist of the New York weather bureau.

All plans had centered on getting into the air at 4 a. m. and Commander Byrd was obviously chagrined as he transmitted the notice of postponement to Grover A. Whalen, who was at the hangar here in the field.

Ready for Start.

The America was on the six-foot incline at the east end of the field, poised for the start.

More than 5,000 persons had assembled to see the beginning of the flight. Kimball told Byrd that fog and an area of extreme low pressure was preventing the direct line of the proposed route to Newfoundland, and added that he could make no predictions for the immediate future as to clearing weather.

When Byrd ordered the postponement, the ground crew was putting the last of the fuel aboard the American, their work illuminated by an anti-motor floodlight lent by Mitchell field authorities. Fifty-eight Nassau county police were keeping the crowd away from the plane and the hangars.

No Flight Today.

Kimball supplemented the weather report with an opinion that, while no positive predictions could be made for Saturday, any Friday flight was out of the question.

"The weather had not cleared between here and Newfoundland Thursday night," said Kimball, whose opinion has served for the two previous flights.

"A dense fog covers Newfoundland from the coast to the coast. For a few hundred miles east of Newfoundland and over the Atlantic the conditions are favorable. But under present conditions most of the first 1,000 miles of the flight would be through fog."

COLLEEN MOORE MUST ARBITRATE MOVIE CONTRACT

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, June 23.—Her contract having contained an arbitration clause, Colleen Moore, the film star, must arbitrate her differences with the First National Pictures, Inc., Supreme Court Justice Mulligan decided today.

The contract specified Miss Moore should make 12 pictures at a salary of $125,000 each, payable in weekly installments of $10,000. The producers claim she refused to perform more pictures after completing seven pictures. Miss Moore is said to have quite her job with a cursory explanation that she intended to sail for Europe.

Pons-Winnecke Viewed Sailing Atlanta Skies

FAMOUS COMET RIDING HIGH IN NORTHEAST

Pons-Winnecke, one of the few comets ever to come close enough to the earth for observation with the naked eye, is riding nightly in the northeastern sky above Atlanta.

The comet which has brightened rapidly in the last week was seen Thursday night by amateur observers without the aid of a glass of any kind. Ever to those who were expecting to see this strange sight, "Pons" appeared much more distinctly than had been expected.

To the east of Vega, the bright star in the constellation of Lyra, in the northeast heavens, Pons-Winnecke showed like a wisp of cloud or a faint glow of light. No tail is visible, just the patch of glowing light. To those who know the locations of the better known, or first magnitude, stars, "Pons" was seen at the right angle of a right angle triangle with Vega and Deneb at the two other angles. "Pons" was east of Vega and south of Deneb. One Atlanta astronomer

LIFE TERMS GIVEN TO D'AUTREMENTS ON GUILTY PLEAS

Three Brothers Tell Graphic Story Describing Holdup of Train and Four Killings.

Medford, Ore., June 23.—(P)—Confessions that they held up a Southern Pacific passenger and mail train in the Siskiyou mountains of Oregon in 1923 and killed four trainmen were made today by the three DeAutremont brothers, Hugh, Ray and Roy. All were sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary at Salem.

Pleas of guilty were entered by the twins, Ray and Roy, following a clean breast of the whole affair made last night by Hugh, the younger brother, who was convicted of first degree murder Tuesday with recommendation of life imprisonment. The twins were promised life terms in return for pleas of guilty.

In his cell in the county jail at Jacksonville today, Hugh in the presence of Ray and Roy, repeated the confession he had made to postal authorities and county officers last night. He said:

Confesses Murders.

"If the world must know, I killed the engineer, (Sydney L. Bates, of Dunsmuir, Cal.) Roy killed the fireman (Marvin Seng, of Dunsmuir), and Ray killed the brakeman" (Coyle Johnson, of Ashland)."

Hugh declared the holdup had its birth when Ray was in the Washington state reformatory serving a term during the world war for criminal syndicalism.

"We all know it was a beastly, dastardly crime, as well as anyone else," he said. "Ray came out of Monroe unblemished against the world. He had been reading Darwin, Huxley, Schopenhauer and all that stuff. His mind was saturated with hatred."

"They accused him of radical syndicalism. Instead, he was just a socialist, who wanted a square deal from everyone."

"Ray met his twin brother, Roy, and they talked over his ideas," said Hugh, "and soon Ray had the same thoughts, they always have been close."

"Shortly before my graduation from the high school at Artesia, N. M.,

GEORGIAN IS GIVEN RANK OF ADMIRAL

Frank H. Brumby, of Athens, Is Included in List of Eleven Captains Promoted.

Frank H. Brumby, of Athens, Ga., was one of eleven captains of the United States navy elevated to the rank of rear admiral, it became known in dispatches from Washington Thursday. The promotions were based on seniority and fitness, it was announced, and were decided upon by a naval board of nine high ranking officers. Nineteen captains were passed over by the board in selecting the eleven, said to be an unusual number to be ignored in choosing such a small group of officers in one grade, and a circumstance that makes Mr. Brumby's promotion even the more worthy of recognition.

In commenting on the action of the board, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur C. Smith said:

"The promotion of Mr. Brumby to the rank of rear admiral is a fitting recognition of his long and distinguished service to the navy."

SERVICE MEN URGE MILITARY TRAINING

Savannah, Ga., June 23.—(AP)—Universal military training and conscription of men and money as the surest warranty of a bright future were the keynote of the three principal speakers at the first session of the American Legion of Georgia which began a two days' convention here today. The speakers were Howard P. Savage, national commander, Chicago; Hanford MacNider, former national commander and now assistant secretary of war, Washington, and Emory Bass, state commander, Valdosta. The addresses were received with enthusiastic applause by approximately 500 delegates and visitors.

Other features of the day's program included a series of welcoming addresses and responses, favorable reports by the adjutant, treasurer and membership committees, memorial services, and the appointment of the following committee chairmen:

Judge J. A. Lynch, Columbus, resolutions; Walter Harrison, Millen, child welfare; R. C. Thompson, Augusta, rules; Joe Rand, Brunswick, naval affairs; Dr. Enoch Calloway, LaGrange, aeronautics; Bert Lennon, Columbus, military affairs; Theodore Reeves, Columbus, credentials; Colonel M. C. Baines, Augusta, rehabilitation; and F. W. Whitney, Athens, time and place.

Tomorrow's program will include the election of officers, adoption of resolutions fixing the policies for the coming year and other similar detail convention matters. Asa W. Chandler, Atlanta, it is generally forecast, will be selected as the next state commander without opposition, and

M. S. Eddy, Gainesville, as national committeeman for Georgia. A theme seems to be the virtually unanimous choice for next year's convention.

A fine parade was held during the late afternoon. The groups included detachments from United States navy ships in ports; soldiers from Fort Benning and Screven; the crack Fort Island marine band; Spanish war veterans; Confederate veterans; local military squads and hundreds of world war delegates. General A. C. Dalton and General P. C. Harris, Washington, with Mayor Robert M. Hull and other notables reviewed the procession from the balcony of a local hotel.

Howard P. Savage, in his address to the convention, praised the Georgia department for its progressive work and whole-hearted support of legion endeavors this year.

An Inspiration.

"The activity of the legion in Georgia this year has been an inspiration to me," Commander Savage said. "From every part of this great state we have heard of the legion doing things; contests and airplane flights in stimulating attention to membership drives; relief work for the stricken flood districts of the Mississippi valley and numerous tasks in the interest of Georgia communities."

"One of the outstanding community service endeavors that attracted nationwide attention was the movement, started by the legion, to consolidate the school systems of Cook county so that the children of Adel and Sparks could attend a thoroughly modern high school for the first time," he said.

WISCONSIN FARMER BUYS SUMMER FARM

Americus, Ga., June 23.—(Special.)—The R. L. Maynard farm, five miles west of Americus, on Plains highway, has just been sold to D. W. Tietjan, of Wisconsin. The consideration involved in the deal is reported at $15,000 cash. The tract embraces 485 fertile acres, much of which has recently been used as pasture. Tietjan was attracted to Georgia through recent publicity given this state in the consolidated advertising campaign of America and other municipalities. He is at present engaged in dairying in Wisconsin, and will pursue the same industry when he comes here with his family to reside early in November.

COUNTY OFFICERS' CONVENTION OPENS

Gainesville, Ga., June 23.—(Special.)—The annual convention of the Georgia County Officers association opened here this morning with more than 300 officials in attendance. William C. Walton, clerk of the superior court of Bartow county, president of the organization, is conducting the meeting.

Following the call to order, addresses of welcome were delivered by Judge W. B. Sloan, of the Hall county court; Judge I. H. Sutton, of the Northeast Georgia circuit, and Howard Johnson, Gainesville city attorney. W. W. Armstrong, solicitor of the city court, presided over the opening exercises.

Reuben R. Arnold, distinguished Atlanta attorney, delivered the principal address, dwelling on the necessity for more complete and better organized courts. He pointed out that much of America's lawlessness can be traced to the lack of a strict enforcement of the law, and that a strict enforcement of the law is the only way to bring about a more civilized and law-abiding people.

Advantage of Good Environment.

"Where a man is reared in an environment of civilized, proper and law-abiding people," Mr. Arnold continued, "law observance comes about naturally to him. It is instilled in him. If he had never opened a law book or read a single statute, the training given him by his parents, the observance of law and honest customs which he sees all around him would so influence him that he could go through his entire life without violating a single law relating to things of substance. This is one of the reasons why we should not have too many laws—laws which go into unnecessary details, law which make too many small things criminal. An intelligent citizen is not able to keep up with them."

Deadened to Violence.

"The time has come when crimes of violence and crimes involving moral turpitude have become so common that the people are being deadened. They no longer feel a shock when the papers print the things which they read. That capital punishment is an extreme measure, that it is primitive and crude, no one can deny; but that we have not reached that point of civilization where we can dispense with it, I feel that no sensible man will deny. Barbaric crimes require barbaric remedies. As long as we have the amount of crime which we have now, we are not entirely civilized."

"The law's idea is not revenge, as some people say. It is not 'an eye for an eye' or 'a tooth for a tooth.' The idea of the law is to prevent the criminal as to prevent him from committing his atrocious crime. The further idea of the law is that it is unsafe to allow to exist a man who is liable to kill any one with whom he comes in contact, and the general sense of the people is to feel more security if such death-dealing animals are put where they can never do more harm. The cost of reforming is too great for the results reached. The effort at confining in prison is too liable to be a failure by escape or pardon, and the criminal is thus once more turned loose upon society to commit his crimes."

"The great common sense of society and its instinct for self-preservation, without resorting to any reason, must agree that this is the wise course in the case of wicked and lawless murder."

Report on Activities.

After Mr. Arnold had concluded his address, President Walton made a report on the association's activities during the past year.

The county officials attended the barbecue at the opening of the new Cherokee mill at noon, while the ladies were guests at a luncheon at the Princeton hotel. The afternoon was devoted to automobile tours in and around Gainesville.

AMERICUS WOMAN GETS $5.50 IN SUIT

Americus, Ga., June 23.—(Special.)—A verdict of $5.50 was rendered in the city court of Americus here Thursday in the case of Mrs. Walter Maynard versus T. L. Summers, chief of police. Mrs. Maynard sued to recover damages alleged to have been sustained when a member of the Americus police force fired upon an automobile owned by her and driven by a negro. The negro was accused of speeding and the officer's bullet punctured a rear tire on the machine. Mrs. Maynard sought to recover $26, alleged to be the actual damage sustained.

CONTINUED RAINS EXPECTED FRIDAY BY FORECASTER

Continued unsettled weather, similar to that of Thursday, with light rains falling intermittently during the afternoon, is predicted for today in Atlanta and vicinity, according to C. F. von Herrmann, local official meteorologist.

Temperatures for today are not expected to vary materially from those of Thursday when low and high marks of 68 and 83 degrees were recorded.

With the rains of Wednesday and Thursday, the rainfall for the month of June thus far passed the normal rainfall for the month by one-fourth of an inch.

ACTRESS' TRIAL TO BE RESUMED THIS MORNING

Los Angeles, June 23.—(AP)—Rebuttal testimony expected from the state probably will extend the trial of Dorcas Mackay, charged with conspiring to conceal the facts in the death of her actor husband, Ray Raymond, into next week. A large calendar in Judge Charles Burrell's court room postponement of the "actress' trial from yesterday until tomorrow morning.

The rebuttal testimony is expected as a result of a question asked Miss Helen Wilkinson, chum of Miss Mackay, who preceded the actress in the stand Wednesday. It was whether or not she had seen Mackay in the little jewelry if it will save someone from "going over the hill? If they call on me, I am going to fight." She denied having made the remark to a policeman.

SEVEN AUDITS FILED BY STATE AUDITOR

Audits for seven of the state's institutions were filed with the governor Thursday by State Auditor Sam J. Slate. They covered the state tuberculosis sanitarium, Confederate Soldiers home, Georgia Training School for Mental Defectives, Georgia Normal and Agricultural college, Georgia state board of health, Georgia State Woman's college, and the state agricultural and normal college at Americus.

Mr. Slate recommended that a special appropriation of $10,000 be made by the legislature to wipe off the debt of the agricultural and normal college at Americus. Part of the present maintenance appropriation is being used to liquidate this debt and, according to Mr. Slate, the institution is crippled by being deprived of these funds.

G. A. R. to Camp Sept. 11

Milwaukee, June 23.—(AP)—The annual national encampment of the G. A. R. will be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., September 11-16. National Commander-in-chief Frank A. Walsh announced today.

P. & N. HEARING IS CONTINUED

Charlotte, N. C., June 23.—(AP)—Continued attacks on the inadequacy of the Southern railway to serve the varied industrial interests of North Carolina and South Carolina, today again formed the pivotal point about which proponents of the Piedmont and Northern railway's proposed extension argued their petition before Examiner Davis, of the interstate commerce commission, for permission to extend the road's lines.

Delegations from Salisbury, Winston-Salem, and Greenville, S. C., were here today to add their voices in intervention for the Piedmont and Northern. J. L. Graham, traffic manager and director of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, was one of the outstanding figures in the visiting delegations.

Mr. Graham gave his unqualified endorsement to the proposed extension. The attitude taken by the visiting delegations centered about the lack of available mill sites on the existing railroad lines except at prohibitive prices. This point was stressed particularly in testimony of those from Winston-Salem.

With the construction of the proposed additional lines of the P. & N., through to Winston-Salem, they contended, there would be ample sites for industrial establishments at prices which mill men well could afford to pay.

The fact also was emphasized that the entire method of merchandising within the past few years has been revolutionized, and that as a consequence, of the changing styles and the resulting "hand-to-mouth" buying, it is of vital importance that as little time as possible elapse from the yarn mill to the finishing and ultimate marketing of the product.

R. A. Dunn, president of the Commercial National bank of Charlotte, attacked the service now being rendered by the Southern railway, in the matter of local shipments in less than carload lots.

The completion of the P. & N. to Winston-Salem and from Gastonia to Spartanburg, would be of great aid, Mr. Dunn said, in the industrial development of the entire section. His opinion, he added, was based entirely on the vast expansion of industries.

Electric Charge Burns Up Leg; Lives 26 Hours

Birmingham, Ala., June 23.—(AP)—After living 26 hours after an electrical charge of 4,400 volts had passed through his body, Charles J. Hanson, 45, a foreman in a local steel works, died today.

Hanson was working on the roof of a mill building when he slipped and fell onto a high-tension wire. In spite of the fact that one of his legs was virtually incinerated, he remained conscious until his death.

STATE RESTS CASE AGAINST KING BEN

St. Joseph, Mich., June 23.—(AP)—The state today rested its case in dissolution proceedings against the House of David colony, following the testimony of Mrs. Bessie Mae Woodworth, a former member. Judge Louis Fead ordered a recess until July 11, when the defense will open.

Seventy-seven witnesses were called by the state and scores of depositions read into the trial record. Most of the state testimony had to do with alleged immorality at the colony, religious fraud and embezzlement by leaders of savings of members. Benjamin Purnell, according to witnesses, converted the title of all property held by members of the faith to his own name.

Mrs. Woodworth today declared she was coached to give false testimony at a grand jury investigation of the colony in 1925. She said Purnell and other leaders instructed her to say upon examination that Purnell was a man of lofty morals, a benevolent leader and a true messenger of the faith, whereas she claimed the reverse was true. Purnell taught that the truth need not be told in law courts. Mrs. Woodworth alleged.

At the conclusion of testimony, W. J. Barnard, defense counsel, offered a motion that all testimony of former colonists regarding alleged irregularities, be stricken from the record on the ground that it was improperly introduced.

He contended there was nothing to show any of the colony buildings were used for immorality and therefore the property could not be construed as a public nuisance. The charge that the colony is a public nuisance is one of the bases for the state's receivership petition. Judge Fead took the motion under advisement.

FLAGS IN LONDON FLY FOR PRINCE WHO IS 33 TODAY

London, June 23.—(AP)—Government buildings and West End clubs flew flags today in honor of the thirty-third birthday of the Prince of Wales. Apart from this time-honored custom, so recognizing the birthdays of the monarch and heir to the throne, there was no public recognition of the event.

The prince had a luncheon engagement with the royal family for receiving gifts.

INDIANA K. K. K. PROBE UNDER WAY

Indianapolis, Ind., June 23.—(United News.)—Renewal of the investigation into the power of the Ku Klux Klan in the Indiana state government was seen today in the action of the federal grand jury which summoned several men prominently identified with previous inquiries.

Among those summoned were Earl Klenck, D. C. Stephenson, former Klan dragon, now serving a life sentence for the murder of a girl; Will Rogers, a former member of the Klan, and Al Sanders, Evansville, Ind., newspaperman.

"I answered all the jury's questions," Klenck said, confirming the report that the jury was investigating Klan power. Klenck came here from Denver.

Committee Assignments As They Should Be Made

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

The "Names-Is-Names" club of the state legislature is being formed by the presiding officers of the two branches of the legislature as they are making up their committees for this year's session and the roster of the names of the members brings an unusual variety of odd cognomens. President Dykes, of the senate, and Speaker Russell, of the house, will have to do some brisk cogitation to provide committees appropriate to the names of some of the members.

In the absence of any official designation of authority, some of the newspapers have provided informal committees for some of the members. For instance "the committee on short skirts" was almost instantaneously awarded to Peck, of Polk. The time-honored "committee on what to name a mule" will again have on it as chairman, Beck, of Carroll. Then "the committee on what an old maid needs" will, of course, be given to Mann, of Bibb.

Burnside, of McDuffie, will head the "whiskers committee," while Lance, of Hall, will head the committee on "boils." The "committee on long drinks" will go to Gullatt, of Campbell, or ought to anyway. Some of the assignments should be as follows: Committee on feeding gas meters, Quartermaster, of Ware. The traffic light committee, Hightower, of Upson. Hair tonic committee, Pate, of Turner. Committee on pickle, Hines, of Sumter. Short skirt committee, Peck, of Polk. Committee to provide menu for defeated politicians, Crowe, of Worth. Liniment committee, Sloan, of Hall. Moonshine committee, Still, of Fulton. Committee on squawking, Jay Bird, of Candler. The committee to chastise errant schoolboys, Thrash, of Coffee, and Burch, of Dodge. Committee on what's left of a reporter's salary the day after pay day, Nix, of Dawson. Committee on how flappers go out, Riden, of Morgan. On how they come back, Walking, of Pierce. Committee on what little boys want in watermelons, Moore, of Colquitt. Committee on automobile drivers who grab all the road, Hoag, of Schley. Committee to hold back floods in

USUAL TEMPEST IN TEAPOT

The house of representatives ran true to form Thursday by starting off with a severe wrangle which turned out to be the usual tempest in the usual teapot. The fight began when somebody proposed that the house operate under the 1925-26 rules until such time as the 1927-28 rules should be adopted. Heated, flighty, flowery and passionate speeches followed each other for a full hour and then the house decided to operate under the 1925-26 rules just as it started to do a full hour before. Which is probably why newspapers assign the comic opera reporters to cover legislative sessions.

Edgar A. Thompson, former assistant superintendent of the state banking department, was a visitor at the capitol Thursday. He has entirely recovered from a severe illness which attacked him several months ago. He has been recuperating at his old home in Greene county and looked like a Jack Dempsey, as far as physical strength goes. He has many friends at the capitol who welcomed him back to Atlanta.

Judge James J. Flynn, former president of the state senate and now representative in the legislature from Spalding county, was one of the last Georgia statesmen to wear "Jim Swingers" coats and even he has now discarded this ancient garment of statecraft, due to the warm weather. "I think I'll trot out one, though, for the inauguration Saturday," he said.

Former Speaker Cecil Neill, of the house of representatives, is back in the legislature as representative from Muscogee county. He has entirely recovered from the injuries he received when he was struck by an automobile last summer. At that time he was an announced candidate for governor, but was so severely injured he was forced to retire from the race.

NEW SENATOR ILL IN HOSPITAL. Friends of Senator J. C. Edwards, of Clarksville, representing the 31st district in the state senate this session, were pleased to learn Thursday that his condition at St. Joseph's infirmary is showing marked improvement. Senator Edwards arrived in Atlanta on Tuesday to represent his district in the upper body of the legislature and had the misfortune to be stricken with an acute attack of stomach trouble. He was taken to St. Joseph's on Wednesday when his condition was pronounced as serious. However, doctors stated Thursday that his condition was showing marked improvement and it is expected that he will be able to take up his duties in the senate next week.

and that she was in a highly nervous condition. Her condition as described as "only fair." The body of Nisbett was found in the garage in the rear of the Nisbett home in Hapeville with a bullet wound in the head, from which he died several hours later in a local hospital. The coroner, General John A. Boykin, Thursday ordered a post-mortem autopsy on the skull of Nisbett, which was held Thursday afternoon in the mortuary of A. C. Hemperley, Hapeville undertaker. The examination showed that he had met his death from a bullet fired from a .38-caliber revolver. Dr. W. A. Arnold, Atlanta physician, conducted the probe. A weapon found near the dead man's body was of the .38-caliber variety. Another weapon said to have been found in the Nisbett home was a .32.

It was discovered that the bullet penetrated the skull near the right temple and ranged backward slightly to the right of the median line. The significance of this find at the autopsy was not revealed by officers who are investigating the case.

Funeral services for Nisbett were held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Presbyterian church at Hapeville and interment was in the churchyard.

Ray came for a visit. He talked this thing to me and I felt the same way. I don't know why. After my graduation I came to Oregon and joined my brothers.

"It was not our first idea to hold up a train. We figured on robbing a bank along the Pacific highway."

"When this part of our planning went wrong, we decided to hold up a train, and drove to the Siskiyou. We picked the Shasta Limited. For three days and nights we studied train movements through the tunnel."

"The night before we got all ready all of us were undecided, but each was afraid to back out. We feared the others would say he had cold feet."

"About noon Roy and I went to the north end of the tunnel and waited for 15. When the train came along, we ran for the blind baggage. Together we crawled over the tender and down into the cabin. I told the engineer to stop and he did. As soon as the engine stopped, we made ready to blow open the mail car. Before this the mail clerk stuck his head out—that we were going to blast the car."

"We were giving him a chance. He again refused. I called to him the third time, and told him it was his last chance."

"We then rushed back to the engine. Roy made the fireman stand with his hands up against the wall and I made the engineer get into the car. We were going to make him pull the mail car down to White Pine. Ray went back to uncouple it."

"While this was going on we saw a man with a fuse over his head coming down the right side of the train. Things were getting desperate. Ray and I took a shot at him when he got close."

"I never will forget him. He staggered toward us and said: 'Wait a minute, boys. I'll never forget the look on his face. He dropped down on the ground and died.'"

"We were all excited now. I made the engineer get back in the cab while Ray tried to uncouple the mail car."

"I told the engineer it was my life or his. He fooled around and still we didn't go ahead."

"I was mad."

"Well, if you and the world must know, I shot the engineer, Sidney, I'm sorry."

"Then Ray shot the fireman. He was the last."

"We then ran back into the woods, where we had a car. We hid there for ten days."

Constitution Convention And Highway Reform Sought in Senate Bills

Upper Body of Legislature Starts Hopper for Bills Thursday; Committees Ready Monday.

With all preliminary organization formalities of the state senate disposed of Thursday, with the exception of the appointment of committee, the upper house under the guidance of President Dykes and Secretary McClatchey, got under way on the second day of their session for the long grind that will face them this summer.

The first to be offered to the body was a measure to provide for the revision of the highway department. It was introduced by Senator A. H. Thompson, of the 37th district.

A call for a constitutional convention at a date to be fixed by the committee which will take the measure under consideration was embodied in a motion to be Atlanta, and the purpose is to revise the constitution of the state, which the authors claim, is not suited to the present needs of Georgia.

By a bill of Senator Rosser's the present system of posting highway notices before securing a marriage license would be done away with. This time limit could still be maintained, however, it is doubtful as to the ages of the applying parties.

Furtherance of the Sone Mountain Confederate monument is sought in a bill introduced by Senator Rosser, of the 44th district. The measure will give to the state the right to condemn the face or land at the foot of the mountain, and the work of completing the monument.

Notice of a contest of the seat of Senator Walter Bennett of the 46th district was filed by Dr. J. H. H. Clark, his opponent in the election and the matter was referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

President Dykes notified the senate that he is doing all in his power to expedite the naming of committees of the body and that the list will be presented early next week. Until that time most new bills are being withheld.

ARIZONA POLICE CAPTURE BANDIT

Muskogee, Okla., June 23.—(AP)—Matthew Kimes, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, has been arrested in Arizona and is now in jail at Flagstaff, Chief of Police Clark Compton announced here tonight.

The announcement was made on the basis of a telegram received by Chief Compton from M. R. Tilletson, park superintendent at Grand Canyon, Ariz., who stated that Kimes, and two companions as yet unidentified, were arrested today and placed in the Flagstaff county jail by Sheriff J. O. Parson.

Kimes is under life sentence for murder in connection with the killing of Perry Chuchulate, a deputy sheriff who was pursuing Kimes after the robbery of two banks at Covington, Okla. Oklahoma officials have connected his name with dozens of daring robberies which have held Oklahoma bankers in terror.

He was released by confederates from jail in Sallisaw nearly a year ago, after his conviction.

His brother, George, is serving a 25-year prison term.

CONVICTS DEMAND PRISON CHANGES

ing, Kan. June 23.—(P)—A list of demands, including more liberties and revision of parole procedure, was sent up to the state board of administration tonight from the depth of the Pennsylvania coal mine, where 328 convicts have been in a state of mutiny since Tuesday.

In a long statement transmitted over the mine telephone, the convicts denied that the mutiny was to enforce demands for cigarettes, which are forbidden under the prison rules. They asked assurance that none of the men in the mine would be punished.

Ask Written Statement.
A written statement from the board of administration, rejecting or accepting the demands, was called for in the ultimatum.

Members of the state board of administration went into session in the warden's office after receiving the statement from the convicts. They said the following statement:

"The board of administration has no comment to make at this time except to say that if there is anything in the rules governing the management of the state penitentiary which should be changed for the betterment of the condition of the inmates or the institution, the board will go into the matter in a fair, impartial way."

Charles W. Huffman, vice chairman of the board, and Lacey Simpson and H. E. Peach, members, signed the statement.

Demands of Convicts.
The convicts complained of the prison food, asked for "more good times," demanded that they be permitted to receive food from friends and that prisoners applying for parole "get the consideration that is allowed them by the law and not by the board members' ruling as in the past."

Dr. Huffman called the prisoners on the mine telephone, following his arrival, and said, "The board is here. Now, what is it you want?"

"We have a statement prepared," the voice of the unidentified convict on the other end of the wire said. "Read it to us," Huffman said, and the statement was taken down in shorthand.

"We would like to have you boys come up," Huffman said at the end of the reading.

"Well, you can get us up right now if you want to," the man at the other end of the wire said, and laughed.

Talks to Pit Boss.
Dr. Huffman was permitted to talk to John Hasset, pit boss in the mine, one of the 14 employees and guards held prisoners by the mutineers.

"The board of administration has no comment to make at this time except to say that if there is anything in the rules governing the management of the state penitentiary which should be changed for the betterment of the condition of the inmates or the institution, the board will go into the matter in a fair, impartial way."

There was no mention regarding food or hunger during the conversation, Dr. Huffman said.

The board members indicated that they would not deal with the men while they were below ground, but would wait until they came to the surface.

HEAVY RAINS HURT CROPS IN ALABAMA
Huntsville, Ala. June 23.—(Special.)—Heavy rains that have resulted in much damage to agricultural crops have fallen in Madison and adjoining counties during this week.

Creeks and smaller streams have been out of their banks spreading over the lowlands and washing young cotton, corn and other crops to a considerable extent. Tuesday there was almost a cloudburst in the New Hope section, according to reports reaching here Wednesday.

High wind accompanied the rain and the high tension wire of the Alabama Power company, bringing current to Huntsville and from here distributed to other points, was broken but there was no interruption of service.

Oil Men Abroad
STILL DEFYING U. S.

Washington, June 23.—(United News.)—Cooperating with the department of justice, the American state department has gone as far as it can under international law to bring pressure on the return of Harry M. Blackmer, former American oil man, who is wanted as a vital witness for the government in the Teapot Dome oil conspiracy case, involving Harry F. Sinclair and former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall.

By order of the state department, Blackmer's passport was revoked May 12 by American Consul Hale at Marseilles, France. This action was taken after Blackmer had refused to accept service of the subpoena by an American agent of the department of justice. Attempts to serve the subpoena have been made unsuccessfully twice since.

Canoe Be Extradited.
As Blackmer is charged with no crime but is wanted only as a witness, he cannot be extradited. The only step left to be taken is to place a warrant for his arrest, which will be practically impossible for him to pass across the French line anywhere. To return to the United States he will have to apply for a new passport and in such case, he could be easily followed by American officers and meet on his arrival on American soil.

The state department has authorized to bring pressure on France to surrender him up since he is not extraditable. But being without passport he is not now in a position to effect of this government and can claim none of the privileges of an American citizen abroad.

Present at Deal.
Blackmer was one of the officials present at the negotiation of the Continental Trading company deal which is held by the government to have been a paper transaction designed to cover up the transfer of $250,000 in Liberty bonds to Albert B. Fall. The government claims this was to compensate Fall for his alleged part in throwing the Teapot Dome oil case to Sinclair. The government, however, is unable to prove its charge for lack of witnesses, Blackmer being one of those wanted for the testimony.

The other person who could give the testimony desired is James E. O'Neil, former president of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co. He got Blackmer and understood to have left the country secretly for France prior to the Teapot Dome trial case. O'Neil has not been located.

The Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trial was set for last month but was delayed until fall because the government had been unable to get Blackmer and two star witnesses back to this country.

GEORGIAN IS GIVEN RANK OF ADMIRAL

Frank Hardeman Brumby is a second cousin of the Brumby brothers in Marietta, all of whom are prominent business men in that community. Frank Brumby's father, the late Walter Brumby, was a first cousin of the late T. M. Brumby, of Marietta, founder of the Brumby Chair Company, of which his son, T. M. Brumby, Jr., is now president.

Frank Brumby is a nephew of Lieutenant Thomas Brumby of the United States navy, who, while serving on Admiral Dewey's flagship distinguished himself at the battle of Manila in the Spanish-American war. In recognition of the exceptional valor Mr. Brumby displayed in this engagement, he was presented with a handsome gold sword. Frank Brumby also is related to Miss Annie Wallis Brumby, of Athens.

Police Remove Boston Sitter From Flag Pole
Boston, Mass. June 23.—(United News.)—Boston police tonight completely upset the plans of Frank "Sparrow" Holl to demonstrate the champion long distance flagpole sitter of the world.

The Framingham, Mass., steeple-jack was removed from his lofty perch atop the flagpole of the Metropolitan building under a warrant charging him with being a "public nuisance."

Holl mounted his bosun's chair Tuesday night for the purpose of crashing the record established several days ago by Alvin "Shipwreck" Kelly, who remained twelve days and twelve hours on a flagpole in Newark, N. J.

Major Paul Lines, secretary of the Boston Automobile club, lodged a complaint with police that Holl was undoing the work of the safety campaign by enticing automobile drivers to look up at him when they should have been watching their driving.

Two policemen shot it out with an automobile thief, and the three were killed. The deadly accuracy of their aim was shown by the fact that all but one of the seven shots fired found its mark. The single wild shot was fired by the robber.

The policemen dead are Sergeant Thomas Kehoe, 52 years old, and Officer James Farley, 32. The man they killed was identified as Dan Leathers, who, in 1922, was sent to the Pontiac reformatory on a robbery charge.

Bodies of the policemen were found on a lawn in front of 4833 North Rockwell street. Kehoe was dead, with a bullet over the temple and another in his back. Farley had been shot in the stomach and chest, but was living and conscious when police reserves arrived.

"There was a woman—in the car—with him," Farley gasped. "She ran."

It was first believed that the slayer of Kehoe and Farley had escaped. At this hospital, however, before he died, Farley said he was sure he had wounded the man.

"I had to shoot, and I'm sure I got him," he said.

Police returned to the place and found the robber's boot had been seen in the heart and the abdomen. The end of his trigger finger had been shot away, probably by the bullet that entered his abdomen.

The police officers started their last quest of a criminal shortly after midnight when a report was made that a masked man had held up Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cooper and taken their automobile and $5,000 which Cooper had.

They came upon the stolen car and the robber near the place where their bodies were found. What happened thereafter is known only to the girl who Farley said was in the automobile with the man. Police believe that the robber immediately opened fire, shooting five times before his revolver jammed. Farley then dropped him with two shots, after Kehoe had fallen mortally wounded.

MARINES IN CHINA EXPECT INVADERS ARRIVAL IN JULY
Shanghai, June 23.—(P)—The foreign forces in Peking and Tientsin expect that the invading nationalists will arrive in that region some time between the 1st and 15th of July and are preparing accordingly. Brigadier General Smalley D. Butler told the Associated Press today.

General Butler, who is in command of all the American marine forces in China, arrived here aboard the U. S. S. Richmond from Peking after spending several weeks in the northern area. He plans to return north shortly.

After a conference with the president, General Wood changed his plan of departing tonight and accepted the invitation of Mr. Coolidge to remain at the lodge overnight.

Although the general seemed tired from his long ride his physician declared that he is in good physical shape aside from the injuries he received.

PAVING IS HALTED BY WOMAN, AIDED BY SCOOP SHOVEL
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Menasha, Wis., June 23.—A 60-year-old woman, armed with a scoop shovel, Thursday afternoon held at bay the city police force, a crew of road contractors and a posse of citizens and caused paving operations on Second street, where her home is located, to be brought to a halt.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Emma Power appeared before the council and objected to the paving of the street because a storm sewer had been laid. She threatened to kill any one who attempted to run the pavement past her home. Thursday when workmen attempted to continue with the pavement she picked up a shovel and mounted guard. A riot call was turned in to police headquarters. The police, augmented by several councilmen, failed to dislodge her from her position and work on the street was discontinued for the afternoon.

Officials then held a council of war, the outcome of which was a call for a special meeting of the Menasha council for Thursday night. Mrs. Power retired to her home in triumph but kept her eye peeled for any attempt at resumption of the work.

SPOTLIGHTING THE SOLONS

BY SAM W. SMALL

Representative Men and Measures That Have Front Places in the Picture.

B. F. HARRIS.

Representative B. F. Harris, of Catastrophe county, is one of the elders of the state who has been called back to the scene in which he was an actor four decades ago. Then he was one of the young set in the house that found helpful leadership by Hon. Clark Howell, Sr., who was then in the first flush of his long legislative career. Since his early service in the general assembly Mr. Harris has held several of the important county offices and the value of his devotion to the community welfare is attested by the call to him to again represent his fellow-citizens in the present legislative session.

Senator Elders lay claim to having read daily his copy of The Constitution during the past 38 years. That is a boast that cannot be made by some of us right here in the shop. He has made a record in that regard that would be an inspiration to many of us, but we imagine he found the wisdom and efficiency of Senator Elders as a legislator are attributable to his constant reading of The Constitution, but we imagine he found the reading profitable, or he would not have kept it for so many years.

Representative Rountree, of Emanuel county, is a good roads enthusiast. He reports joyfully that his county has just let a contract for 17 miles of highway, the longest in the state. Emanuel county also boasts of good roads mileage than any other county in the state, having 105 miles within her borders, many of which is on federal No. 1 and federal No. 80, that are through trunk lines.

Mr. Rountree has been a steady hand in the house for several terms and will very surely be found out by the progressives of the present session.

My word, it was a welcome thrill to grasp again the right hand of Representative John Crombie, of Jefferson county, who was one of the pointers for today is: With a worthless singleton, original No. Trump bidding should be avoided. Yesterday's Hand.

♦ A-K-J-4
♦ A-1-3-3

My answer slip reads: No. 13. South (Dealer) should bid one Spade.

No. 14. South one Diamond. West should bid one Spade.

No. 15. South one Diamond. West should bid one Spade.

No. 16. After three passes; East should bid one Spade.

My reasons in support of these declarations are:

No. 13. The hand has much greater than minimum No Trump strength, but the worthless singleton makes the Spade safer and therefore more advisable.

No. 14. The hand has all the requisites needed for an informative double: four cards and great strength in both majors, five high cards divided among three suits, and a solid which would greatly assist either a Spade, Heart or Diamond takeout by East. If East answers by bidding two Clubs, West can bid two No Trumps with apparent safety.

No. 15. A close case. With the bidding as given, the chances are that South has the Clubs stopped, but to rely upon that and bid No Trump would be risky. Bidding a Spade would be inadvisable because, in view of the Diamond bid by South, there appears to be better chance for a game at Diamonds than at Spades. The hand's general strength is so great that a Diamond jump is not needed, and a pass would be sound were it not possible that South may have a secondary Major bid which would be advantageous.

No. 16. Too strong to pass even in the Fourth Hand position and because of the worthless singleton a Spade is a better declaration than a No Trump.

Today's Hand.

In No. 17, it is held by South; in No. 18, by West; in No. 19, by North; and in No. 20, by East. Various bids, if any, are shown in the answer slip.

Bridge Answer Slip of June 24.
No. 17. South (Dealer) should bid one Spade.
No. 18. South one No Trump; West should bid one Spade.
No. 19. South one No Trump; West should bid one Spade.
No. 20. After three passes; East should bid one Spade.

Upon the admission of Will Nunn, negro, that "he just couldn't keep out of trouble when he was drinking," and that he burglarized the store of S. Seibert, at 346 Loy-Joy street, while intoxicated, Judge G. H. Howard, in Fulton superior court, sentenced the negro to serve from 12 to 20 years on the chain gang.

At the hearing on the plea, it was stated to the court that the defendant had only been released from the penitentiary a few weeks ago after serving a sentence for burglary. Judge Howard remarked in passing the sentence that Nunn would not be troubled soon with insobriety or trouble.

Representative B. F. Harris, of Catastrophe county, is one of the elders of the state who has been called back to the scene in which he was an actor four decades ago. Then he was one of the young set in the house that found helpful leadership by Hon. Clark Howell, Sr., who was then in the first flush of his long legislative career. Since his early service in the general assembly Mr. Harris has held several of the important county offices and the value of his devotion to the community welfare is attested by the call to him to again represent his fellow-citizens in the present legislative session.

Senator Elders lay claim to having read daily his copy of The Constitution during the past 38 years. That is a boast that cannot be made by some of us right here in the shop. He has made a record in that regard that would be an inspiration to many of us, but we imagine he found the wisdom and efficiency of Senator Elders as a legislator are attributable to his constant reading of The Constitution, but we imagine he found the reading profitable, or he would not have kept it for so many years.

Representative Rountree, of Emanuel county, is a good roads enthusiast. He reports joyfully that his county has just let a contract for 17 miles of highway, the longest in the state. Emanuel county also boasts of good roads mileage than any other county in the state, having 105 miles within her borders, many of which is on federal No. 1 and federal No. 80, that are through trunk lines.

Mr. Rountree has been a steady hand in the house for several terms and will very surely be found out by the progressives of the present session.

My word, it was a welcome thrill to grasp again the right hand of Representative John Crombie, of Jefferson county, who was one of the pointers for today is: With a worthless singleton, original No. Trump bidding should be avoided. Yesterday's Hand.

My answer slip reads: No. 13. South (Dealer) should bid one Spade.

No. 14. South one Diamond. West should bid one Spade.

No. 15. South one Diamond. West should bid one Spade.

No. 16. After three passes; East should bid one Spade.

My reasons in support of these declarations are:

No. 13. The hand has much greater than minimum No Trump strength, but the worthless singleton makes the Spade safer and therefore more advisable.

No. 14. The hand has all the requisites needed for an informative double: four cards and great strength in both majors, five high cards divided among three suits, and a solid which would greatly assist either a Spade, Heart or Diamond takeout by East. If East answers by bidding two Clubs, West can bid two No Trumps with apparent safety.

No. 15. A close case. With the bidding as given, the chances are that South has the Clubs stopped, but to rely upon that and bid No Trump would be risky. Bidding a Spade would be inadvisable because, in view of the Diamond bid by South, there appears to be better chance for a game at Diamonds than at Spades. The hand's general strength is so great that a Diamond jump is not needed, and a pass would be sound were it not possible that South may have a secondary Major bid which would be advantageous.

No. 16. Too strong to pass even in the Fourth Hand position and because of the worthless singleton a Spade is a better declaration than a No Trump.

Today's Hand.

Lindy Invitation To Visit City

Atlanta invited Colonel Charles Lindbergh, viking of the air, to this city Thursday. Mayor L. N. Ragsdale dispatched a letter to the pioneer aviator at his home in St. Louis, urging the latter to accept the invitation and honor the city by appearing here at his earliest convenience.

The invitation was the outgrowth of an appeal made Monday to city council by a committee of women representing the city's most influential civic and patriotic organizations, and was forwarded Thursday night to the flyer.

The mayor's letter to Colonel Lindbergh follows: June 23, 1927.

Dear Colonel Lindbergh: General council of the city and Atlanta and many patriotic and civic organizations have expressed their cordial wishes that you participate in the privilege of entertaining you and your noble mother as guests of this city.

Keener appreciation of your epic flight and greater admiration of your modesty, your courage, your noble and conquerable spirit will not be found in any other city of the nation. In true American spirit and cordiality, we desire to see you and your mother here at a date convenient to your selves.

We hope that you will wing your way to us in the "Spirit of St. Louis," for the interest of our population will be intense to view the ship which bore you upon your magnificent voyage.

Among the organizations that join with the city in extending this invitation are the Atlanta Woman's club, Joseph Habersham chapter D. A. C., Atlanta chapter U. D. C., Atlanta Federation of Women's club, Atlanta chapter A. R., West End Civic club and the Atlanta Needlework Guild.

Trusting to have the honor and privilege of entertaining you, I am Cordially,
L. N. RAGSDALE, Mayor.

COSGRAVE AGAIN HEADS FREE STATE

BY GEORGE MACDONAGH.
Dublin, June 23.—(United News.)
Republican insurgents refusing to swear allegiance to King George V of England have threatened the life of the new Irish parliament.

While the newly elected body, with only 88 of its 153 deputies sworn into office, assembled Thursday and named William T. Cosgrave president of the Free State's executive council, 44 republicans adherents of Eamon de Valera refused to take the oath of allegiance, were forced to remain outside the parliament chambers.

De Valera's deputies announced that they would fight for their seats and would steadily oppose the oath of allegiance to the English monarch. The deadlock thus created, preventing the seating of one-fourth of the Irish parliament, promised to develop into a fight which might involve the very existence of the newly elected body.

Cosgrave was elected on June 23, 1922, and immediately announced the new Irish cabinet.

Stage Demonstration.
De Valera's deputies staged a small demonstration on their way to the parliament building, but there were no untoward incidents. Marching through the streets they were followed by a huge crowd of cheering and singing adherents to the republican principles of total separation from England.

Police, warned in advance that De Valera had ordered a demonstration, were on hand at all entrances to the parliament building to prevent entrance of the agitators. Immediately upon refusal of the republican group to take the oath of allegiance to the king, 44 new members were conducted to a committee room where they waited while the new parliament was organized.

DETECTIVES FAIL TO FIND TRAIL OF ASHWORTH HERE

Memphis, Tenn., June 23.—(AP)—Red Ashworth, the man who shot and killed a woman here Sunday as suspicious characters, will be tried in Shelby county courts on five charges of larceny, burglary and carrying concealed weapons. It is announced by the attorney general's office.

Ashworth confessed to police that he was wanted in Birmingham, Nashville and Atlanta on various charges, principal among which was a safe robbery at Birmingham. He implicated his woman companion, but she has steadfastly denied that she had any part in Ashworth's lawless activities.

Atlanta police and detectives Thursday began checking up on recent robberies and safe-cracking in the city, in an effort to connect Red Ashworth, now being held in Memphis on several charges, but early Thursday night had been unsuccessful.

Lindbergh May Fly Atlanta Air Mail Run

From The Constitution Bureau.
Washington, June 23.—(AP)—This bureau has been advised that Postmaster General New and his air-mail aids are seriously considering the sending of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, if his plans will permit, over the proposed air route between Washington and Atlanta, at an early date.

The postal authorities would like to have him navigate the route, ascertain its currents and normal meteorological conditions, and advise the best route and flying hours for the mail planes.

Also, they would like his expert opinion as to itinerary lightings and the available landing facilities, especially the one at the terminus in Atlanta.

Should Colonel Lindbergh agree to make this tour of inspection for the department, it will give the people of Atlanta a coveted and excellent opportunity to testify their admiration for the "premier airman of the world."

Coolidge Invited to Chattanooga. Officials of the department of commerce and of the United States Chamber of Commerce are quite hopeful that President Coolidge will accept the invitation of the national association of manufacturers to attend and address their annual meeting in Chattanooga in October.

By then he will have returned to the department from his vacation, and with no session of congress in hand, the president could possibly find it agreeable to go to Chattanooga for so important a meeting; and, as he is known to have expressed a desire to see Atlanta again, he might easily be induced to return to Washington via Atlanta.

German Foreign Minister Spoke. The German foreign minister spoke extemporaneously and freely about the strain of his attendance at the recent meeting of the council of the League of Nations in Geneva. He pledged Germany's aid in carrying out the resolutions of the international economic conference and at the same time declared that it was imperative for the big powers to approach the problem of disarmament in a spirit of sincerity and determination. Otherwise, he declared, the very existence of the league was threatened.

Touching on the Rhineland evacuation, Dr. Stresemann asserted that Germany had a moral and formal right to expect reduction of the occupation troops, and closed his lengthy address with a fervent appeal for Franco-German understanding, which he intimated was seriously jeopardized by Premier Poincaré's speech at Lunéville last Sunday.

It could refute many of his accusations, said Dr. Stresemann, but will not do so. We will not get far by resurrecting the old differences; and then, too, the world is already too far advanced in its knowledge of the facts.

Dr. Stresemann said that Germany had reorganized her police force to meet the wishes of the allied powers, had broken up illegal military organizations and had destroyed her fortifications.

Commenting on the Anglo-Russian break and the signing of the treaty between Germany and Russia, Dr. Stresemann insisted that an economic treaty like Germany can be expected to dispense with a potential market like Russia.

At the conclusion of his speech Chancellor Marx and other cabinet members, among whom were Vice Chancellor Hergt, the nationalist leader, demonstratively congratulated the foreign minister, whose speech was received with silent approval, as it largely conformed to the anticipation of the reichstag.

BOSTON MAN WINS $10,000,000 BRIDE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Gladstone, N. J., June 23.—A $10,000,000 bride went to the altar this afternoon when June Hamilton Brady became Mrs. Frederick S. Moseley, Jr., at Hamilton farms, the estate near here of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Brady. She will receive a vast fortune, estimated at $10,000,000, left by her grandfather, the late Anthony N. Brady, public utilities magnate.

Today's wedding, staged amid landscaped beauty, was the occasion for numerous guests from Boston and New York society, for Moseley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Strong Moseley, of Boston and Newburyport, and among the most prominent of the younger men in the Hub's social life. Special trains from both cities were provided to bring the 700-odd guests for the ceremony and the reception which followed.

The ceremony was performed by Monsignor William I. McKean, of Grand Rapids, and the Right Rev. Thomas J. Walsh, bishop of Trenton.

MORE MARINES ARRIVE CHINA

Shanghai, June 23.—(AP)—Brigadier General Smelter, Butler, arriving here today from Peking, aboard the U. S. S. Richmond, strongly intimated that further American marine forces will proceed north shortly.

General Butler, who is in command of all the American marine forces in China, said:

"The transport Henderson is here from Manila loaded to the gunwales with supplies and the Chaumont's 1,150 marines are all aboard and ready for duty."

The general declared that the foreign forces at Peking and Tientsin expect that the nationalists, who are making a drive on those two cities, will be met by the marines of the first and fifteenth of July and are preparing accordingly in case of any anti-foreign outbreaks.

General Butler himself plans to turn north shortly.

Marshall Feng Yu-hsiang, who is in complete command of the northern expedition, said, pointing out that in addition to this current funds of the levee boards have been expended on the recent highway fight.

A considerable decrease is seen in the telegrams sent to the board, and a future revenues by reason of reduced assessments and inability of taxpayers in inundated areas to pay, the telegrams said.

The total assessment of the Mississippi river commission upon the levee boards was $812,000. Under the present system the expense of maintaining the levees is divided among the federal government, acting through the Mississippi river commission, state government and the local levee boards.

Revenues ordinarily available to levee boards already have been anticipated and pledged for the next two years, the telegram said, pointing out that in addition to this current funds of the levee boards have been expended on the recent highway fight.

Legislation To Be Discussed At Citizenship School Today

The Atlanta College Park and DeKalb County Leagues of Women Voters have united forces in promoting the citizenship school. The school will be held Friday morning at the East Lake Country club. The object of the league is to increase the number of active, responsive and informed voters. With this in mind, a business-like survey of legislative work with a study of methods for strengthening the bills to be backed this summer will be launched.

Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, president of the DeKalb County league, will open the session at 10:30 o'clock by introducing Mrs. R. T. Turman, state chairman of citizenship, who will conduct the class. Mrs. Turman will take up the subjects of the legislature, how it is composed, how it functions and the passage of a bill through the legislature. This will be followed by a discussion of the bills which were introduced by the Georgia league in convention in Savannah last fall, which will be backed by the local leagues during the present session of the legislature.

These bills include: Constitutional convention, a new constitution for Georgia to replace the one adopted in 1874 during the reconstruction period, tax reform, to provide an increase in revenue without raising the tax rates for the state; a bill to remove the discrimination in favor of women in the matter of poll tax; a bill to raise the age of consent, now only 14 years in Georgia; a bill to amend the Georgia constitution to provide that the time of the legislature may not be consumed with local measures to the exclusion of state-wide legislation; and five children's bills, namely, the mother's aid bill, adoption bill, illegitimacy bill and non-support and desertion bill. The Georgia league, under the leadership of Josephine Wilkins, from the state council of social agencies, will lead the discussion of the children's bills from 1 to 10 o'clock.

Intermission Granted.
An intermission will be granted from 12:30 to 1 o'clock when the guests will assemble for luncheon. Mrs. Dan C. Lyle, president of the College Park league, will introduce Mrs. Viola Ross Napier, of Macon, chairman of the legislative committee for the state league, who will preside over the luncheon.

Many Georgia notables have been invited, among them being Governor and Mrs. Walker, Governor-elect and Mrs. Hardman, Representatives Frank Hoyer, Jr., Luther Still and Miss Beanie Kempton, of Fulton county, and Representatives James C. Davis, Paul L. Lindsey and John W. Weeks of DeKalb county; Senator R. P. Lester and Senator Walter Hendrix, of the 24th and 35th senatorial districts, respectively, and others. The guests of honor will be given an opportunity to express their views on the measures the leagues are endorsing during the luncheon.

Reservations for the luncheon closed Thursday, but members and friends are free to attend the course without charge of reservation. F. W. Trenary, chairman of the hospitality and luncheon committee of the Atlanta league, has appointed a committee to greet the guests and to be assisted by committees from the College Park and DeKalb leagues.

Mrs. Little Honored By Mrs. Price-Smith.

Mrs. John D. Little, who leaves the latter part of June for New York, from where she sails June 29 on the steamer Albert Ballin for a European tour, was honored guest at the farewell luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, in the palm room of the Atlanta Woman's club. The color motif of pink and green was carried out in the decorations. Ices frozen in the shape of little sailing vessels, topped with the flag of the state of Georgia, also carried out the idea of the ocean journey of the honoree.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Little, Clifford Walker, John K. Otley, Belling Jones, Robert F. Maddox, Wilmer Moore, Hugh Richardson, Richard Johnson, John Gilbert, John Murphy, John Grant, Preston Arkwright, Hollins Randolph, Robert Adair Smythe, Charles Conklin, John Owens, E. P. McBurney, John M. Sinton and Robert Aiken.

Misses Cummings Honored at Dance.

Miss Minerva Wheelock and her brother, Allen Wheelock, entertained Thursday evening with a dance at the home of Mrs. W. K. Wheelock, on North avenue, complimenting their cousins, Misses Eliza and Jim Cummings, of Abingdon, Va. The beautiful home of Mrs. Wheelock was thrown en suite, forming a picturesque setting, with its decorations of ferns and garden flowers, for the occasion, which gathered more than fifty members of the younger set. Miss Minerva Wheelock received her guests in a frock of pink satin trimmed in seed pearls, fashioned bouffant style. Misses Eliza and Jim Cummings were lovely in blue tulle dresses fashioned alike and trimmed in flowers and silver ribbon. Mrs. Wheelock wore a gown of black trimmed in gold. The evening was a success and the guests will return Sunday to their home in Virginia.

Remove Freckles and All Blemishes

When the skin becomes disfigured by freckles, tan, pimples or other blemishes, all beauty of the face is hidden. To remove these skin defects, it is best to put them off with pure mercuric wax. Obtain an ounce at any drug store or beauty counter and use as directed. The wax peels off the thin outer skin, gently but surely, removing the ugly mask. With the removal of the outer skin, the underlying skin is revealed soft and smooth, clear and white with the new bloom of youth on the cheeks. Repeated use brings out the hidden beauty. —(adv.)

Garment Workers Attack, Trample New York Cops

New York, June 23.—(United News)—A squad of eight policemen were beaten, trampled and badly hurt when they tried to break up a riot of garment workers Thursday night during a riot in which 50 women and men were slightly injured and a block of New York 25th street littered with hats, broken umbrellas and bits of the combatants' clothing.

The riot occurred when 800 left wing members of the Women's Garment Workers' organization were ousted from union headquarters by a court order and 1,000 right wing members took possession of the office.

The small police squad had been deemed sufficient to preserve order. The failure of this theory appeared when the left wingers, stinging with the taunts of the other side, suddenly made a rush.

Detective John Kelly was severely beaten and his companions bruised and scratched by women and men of both sides.

The entire police reserves of the district finally restored order.

Elyria, Ohio, June 22.—(United News)—Not until "Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh" flashed like a queen in a closed car with volunteer police escorts from Detroit to Cleveland Thursday, did officials become suspicious, investigate and finally conclude they had escorted a load of whisky instead of the mother of a hero.

Greatly upset at being the victims of such a hoax, the police forces of northern Ohio, who had been outdug themselves when night fell to find out:

1. Who posed as Charles A. Lindbergh's mother.

2. What else was in the car with her.

3. Where car and contents went.

The trip had been heralded by telegrams to mayors of half a dozen Ohio cities along the route. The missives were signed "Edwin Brennan, chairman Lindbergh reception committee," and came from Detroit.

The telegrams said Lindbergh and his mother were making the trip in a sedan recognizable by red, white and blue ribbons on the motor, and requested police escorts through the different territories.

The mayors were informed confidentially that the trip was a secret one, and they were asked to help keep it so.

As advertised, the beribboned car appeared. Its occupants proved trustworthy and non-communative, but this was hardly news, in view of the break-neck speed with which, guarded by popping police motorcycles, the car passed along the route.

Motorcycle police from Cleveland met and escorted the car from Oberlin to Rocky river, whence the automobile proceeded west into Cleveland and vanished.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 23.—(AP)—Flying from Vienna through wind and rain, Chamberlain and Lennon were late this morning to find that the people of Prague, who had awaited them by the thousands for many long hours, had all gone home to their beds.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 23.—(AP)—Morning the roads swarmed with automobiles and pedestrians, the city was gay with American and French flags. Officials of the government waited patiently at the airport for the fliers. Shortly after noon it was announced that the Americans would not fly today and that the regular celebrations had been abandoned, so the crowds went home.

When the news finally came from Vienna that they had taken off, only a few officials had time to hurry to the field, for the flight required less than two hours. The president of the Aero club, the mayor and the secretary of the American legation were among those who welcomed them.

The airman proceeded to the American legation and the news of their arrival spread rapidly, and soon the principal stations in New York, Boston and the New England area. Commissioner Bellows will go first to Chicago and thereafter visit other points in the middle west, while Commissioner Sykes will make the investigations in southwestern and southern states. Commissioner Dillon, the Pacific coast member, is ill in San Francisco and it may be necessary for the inspection in that territory to be arranged for later.

On June 15 a new allocation of radio wave positions went into effect. The purpose of the inspection tour to determine the degree of satisfaction is being given by the new plan.

Death Sentence
Dodger's Wife
Seeking Funds

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution.) Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Now that the Illinois supreme court has granted a new trial to Russell Scott, convicted murderer and literally dragged from the scaffold three times by legal methods, the old insanity dodge and other methods, his wife, Catherine, who is working as a waitress, is working over the problem of securing funds to pay for the trial, the employment of alienists, high-priced lawyers and other expenses. Also her boy, now 6 years old, must undergo an operation for mastoid abscess, and this requires money.

She said today that Scott's attorney had dug up an entirely new angle to be presented at the new trial. It is understood the attorney plans to take the case into federal court and plead illegal imprisonment. She is positive in her belief that Scott will be a free man inside of two or three months.

General Butler Predicts Storm In China Soon

BY JOHN POWELL.
(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and the Atlanta Georgian by John Powell.)

Shanghai, June 23.—Brigadier General Snedley Butler returned to Shanghai after the cruise Richmond, and said that the storm is expected to break at Pekin and Tientsin between July 1 and 15; that he would return to Tientsin immediately and that the transports Henderson and Chaumont, loaded with marines and supplies, were in readiness to sail immediately, possibly tomorrow.

Regarding conditions in the Peking-Tientsin area, Brigadier General Butler said that the surface was quiet, but he found Chinese peasants and farmers, even in remote places 30 miles from Tientsin, believing that the millennium was coming, with the Kuomintang even bringing rain and quenching the long drought. Brigadier General Butler said he found the Kuomintang propaganda prevailing all the territory and that the peasants were aware of the details of the alleged British violations of China's integrity through aerial flights over Shanghai.

The Chinese taxpayers at Shanghai shun today about resolved to refuse to pay the increased taxes which were voted recently by foreign taxpayers of the international settlement on the grounds that the Chinese were not represented. As the first payment at the new rates is effective July 1, a crisis is expected.

RADIO CORPORATION
SETTLES PATENT SUITS

New York, June 23.—(AP)—The New York Times today says the Radio Corporation of America has settled out of court all litigation affecting its patents and will receive $1,250,000 from licensing agreements reached with seven radio manufacturing concerns.

The agreements were made with concerns with which the radio corporation was involved in litigation and other companies. Ranging in value from $100,000 upward, they represent royalties which the radio corporation claimed over a period of years.

Agreements have been concluded with the Radio Reception Company, Inc., All-American Radio corporation, American Bosch Magneto company, Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Manufacturing company, Crosley Radio corporation, Zenith Radio corporation and Spittorf-Bethlehem Electric company.

These companies, the Times says, will pay the Radio Corporation of America a uniform rate of 7-12 per cent of their gross income from the sale of receiving sets equipped with the devices licensed under the patent agreements.

Mrs. J. Storms writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

WIDOW, BOARDER ARE EXONERATED ON MURDER COUNT

Tallahassee, Fla., June 23.—(AP)—A verdict of not guilty was returned by a jury today in the case of Mrs. Ruby Graham and Thomas Anderson, tried jointly for the alleged murder of Mrs. Graham's husband, P. J. Graham.

The verdict came after Judge J. B. Johnson had instructed the jury to find for the defendants and after a large portion of the testimony had been read for the state had been stricken out.

Graham, a mechanic, died suddenly at his home here about six weeks ago. A chemical analysis of the viscera disclosed a quantity of poison and Mrs. Graham and Anderson, a boarder in the Graham home, were indicted on first degree murder charges.

Two Atlanta Hopefuls Left in Tourney at Charlotte

Will Gunn, Gene Cook Stick in First Flight

Watts Bows To Harry Ehle, of Asheville, One-Up, and Lagomarsino Is Beaten by W. B. Mason.

BY WHITNER CARY.

Charlotte Country Club, June 23.—The 1926 champion eliminated, the favorite for the 1927 crown beaten in the eighteenth green, another match carried to the home green before a decision and three other encounters prolonged to extra holes was the dish of raw, unfettered drama served out today in the first round of the championship flight of the southern golf to ramment.

Whatever may have been lacking in excitement, thrills, heartache and anguish during the first three days of the preliminary play of this tournament was more than compensated for by the fireworks that were "unleashed" in this first round of the championship. A round that saw Emmett Spicer's crown gently removed from his perspiring brow through the agency of the clubs of Tom White, a fellow townsman; which saw Watts Gunn, the main battle of the Atlanta forces, take a heart-breaking licking at the hands of the 20-year-old Harry Ehle, from Asheville; which witnessed Chasteen Harris, the game and hard fighting Memphis star, finally bow to Will Gunn by the count of 3-2, and which saw Chess Lagomarsino, the sensational Atlanta youngster who put out the low medalist Tuesday, beaten on the twentieth hole by W. B. Mason, Jr., of Asheville.

Not a Total Loss.

But while there were heartaches for many and while Atlanta suffered a brace of jolts when Watts and Chess went down, the day was not entirely a total loss for the Gate City. For while Watts and Chess are relegated to the social side of the tournament, Brother Will Gunn is still very much alive and Gene Cook is still pursuing the even tenor of his life. Gene was one of the few who went through the first round without a serious struggle, defeating Nelson Giddens, of Memphis, 6-4.

The defeat of Watts Gunn, who had been looked upon by many as the 1927 title holder, was of course the outstanding event of the day. Watts shot a brand of golf that could not be considered bad, yet could certainly not be called brilliant, and which pitted against the steady and at times sensational brand turned loose by Harry Ehle, the 8 speckled Asheville boy, was not strong enough for the occasion. If any one fault could be attributed to the play of Watts it was his work on the greens. He was getting good tee shots, as a rule, and in many cases was outdriving Ehle by many yards. His irons were in fair working order, but his putting left much to be desired.

Downfall.

While it was his work on the greens that probably was his worst enemy it was not the putting blade that finally halted him in his championship hunt, but his masher. It was this club that played him fine at the never-to-be-forgotten 18th hole when, with the match squared, his ball lying well out in the fairway and his opponent's shot resting in the rough, his approach effort, made with a masher, landed on the side of the trap guarding the home green. When that shot went to the tray the chances of Watts coming into the 1927 southern tournament went up in the humid air enveloping the course. Seeing Gunn's approach land in the trap, Watts, as a life saver to Ehle, whose tee shot was beyond his opponent's drive, but in the rough at the edge of the fairway, and not many feet from the deep hillside. Taking a masher niblick Ehle, playing with great confidence, sent his ball true to the green and not cent on the trap but in. It was a great pitch made at a most crucial time. Gunn made a gallant effort to get dead with his shot from the side of the trap but he put a little too much on it and his ball landed fully 12 feet beyond the

Tough Struggle

The match-up to this time had been a terrific struggle, with the count either square or Ehle in the lead. At no time during the 18 holes was Gunn in front. The youngster was playing extremely careful golf and seemed to be as cool as if he was in a practice match on his home course instead of in the first round of the southern championship, and against one of the greatest players in Dixie. They halved the fourth and fifth although Watts looked a winner at the latter until he missed a three-footer for a four. The match became square at the sixth when Ehle took a five to Watts four. The Asheville entry forced into the lead again at the long seventh, when his birdie four was enough to win. He increased this advantage to 2-up at the par six eighth when his third was close enough for him to sink his putt and add another birdie to his score. Watts got back one of the precious holes at the ninth when he made a birdie two, but the number taken by the Asheville lad.

Halved.

The first two holes of the back side were halved in perfect figures although nothing but a stygian saved Watts from losing the eleventh. Ehle's tee shot on this hole was almost dead to the pin and he probably could have had a birdie two had not Watts approach putt blocked the way.

The long twelfth saw Gunn square the match by connecting two great wooden shots with a neat pitch and a good putt to get his first and only birdie of the match. This looked like the turning point of the encounter and the hopes of the Atlanta crowd were high as the players went on the thirteenth tee. These high hopes were increased when Ehle sliced his drive well into the tall grass after Watts had sent a screaming effort fully 250 yards down the fairway.

Right here came the turning point of the encounter, but it was in Ehle's favor. Realizing that Watts could get on with an easy approach shot and that the Atlanta boy would certainly get a four, Ehle decided to cast every thing on trying to get out in one from where he lay. Taking a wood he slammed into the ball with terrific force. The ball got out, went to the creek at the bottom of the hill and ed close to the water and continuing up the other slope about half way between the creek and the green. Encouraged by this effort Ehle then proceeded to pitch close enough with his third to enable him to sink for a par four.

Watts also got his par but it was only a half when a win looked certain. Ehle went into the fourteenth, when another birdie decorated his card. Watts pulled his drive on this hole. They halved the fifteenth, but the match became square again at the sixteenth when Ehle's second went into the rough and he took a five. The seventeenth saw Watts pull his drive to the tall grass at the left of the green while Ehle's tee shot was on. Watts second failed to reach the carpet and things looked bad for him. His third, however, was on and he sank a six-footer for a four. Ehle's approach putt was shot by five feet and he missed his next, a masher that at the time looked especially bad for him, but which was offset by his subsequent play at the home hole.

Probably the biggest heartache of the day was caused when Chess Lagomarsino, who had startled the tournament with his sensational display of golf on the preceding day against the low medalist, Frank Spicer, at the 20th hole after having his opponent, W. B. Mason, of Asheville, down three, Mason with his back to the wall, shot those last three holes of the regular 18-hole match in one under par which proved good enough to take them from Chess. The 19th hole, the first extra one to be played, was halved in par fours, but Chess lost the match at the 20th when he missed a short putt after having made a beautiful recovery from a pulled tee shot.

Will Goes Well.

While the elder Gunn was going through the terrific struggle against Ehle, the younger brother, Will, was playing a most unusual brand against Chasteen Harris, the Memphis ace. Will was making a study of game conditions or at least seemed to be deeply interested in the brand that grows just out of the fairway. During the 16 holes of the match his tee shot found the rough just 13 times. Yet so great was his recovering ability and so accurate was his chipping that his drive acted simply as agencies to give him an opportunity to exhibit his skill in other departments. He was also putting in remarkable fashion.

Atlanta players in the second flight did not fare so well. Of the four right when his third was close enough for him to sink his putt and add another birdie to his score. Watts got back one of the precious holes at the ninth when he made a birdie two, but the number taken by the Asheville lad.

Gene Cook, another strong Atlanta youngster, shot a most consistent round against Nelson Giddens, of Memphis, and seemed to have things well in hand from the jump. His card showed a par 37 for the outward nine and a par 37 for the outward nine.

A trio of fours on the first three holes of the backside proved enough to end the match 6-4.

Hitting Well.

The Atlanta boy is hitting his shots well and all departments of his game were going good today. It is doubtful if he has ever played a more consistent game of golf than that, flashed during the past two days. With the field reduced to eight players, Atlanta still has a strong hand. The Gate City is represented by Gene Cook and Will Gunn. Charlotte has Jack Heath, who was forced to the home green today before disposing of Tub Palmer, the Miami golfer, Asheville has Ehle and Mason carrying the Mountain City's colors. Rome, Ga., is depending upon J. B. Gordon, who took the measure of N. E. Edgerton, of Raleigh, 1-up after 20 soul-grinding holes. Birmingham has John Thomas still in the fight while the once formidable Memphis brigade is reduced to one lone standard bearer, Tom White, who defeated the 1926 champion, Emmett Spicer 3-2 in a well played match that saw White shooting a very steady brand of golf.

Today's Schedule.

The schedule for Friday calls for the round before the semi-finals and the semi-finals. In the upper half Gene Cook will play W. B. Mason and John Thomas Hunt meet Jack Crickler. The two winners will meet in the afternoon to decide who will occupy the final of the upper half.

The lower half sees Will Gunn pitted against J. B. Gordon, and Harry Ehle against Tom White.

Chick Ridley, of Atlanta, advanced to the second round of the third flight, when he defeated J. W. West 3-2. Chick was hitting well and looms as a dangerous contender for third flight honors.

Tom Shropshire defeated C. S. Andrews, 2-up, in the fourth flight. John Grant had little trouble taking a 6-4 victory from Berrien Moore, Jr., in the fifth flight, while C. S. Strickland, in the same flight, got a default from W. B. Uhler.

RESULTS.

W. B. Mason, Jr., Asheville, N. C., defeated Chess Lagomarsino, Atlanta, one up, 20 holes.

Gene Cook, Atlanta, defeated Nelson Giddens, Memphis, 6 and 4.

Johnny Thames, Birmingham, beat Pat Sweeney, Charlotte, one up, 19 holes.

Jack Heath, Charlotte, won over Tub Palmer, Miami, Fla., one up, 18 holes.

Will Gunn, Atlanta, beat Chasteen Harris, Memphis, 3 and 2.

Ray Francis To Get Call for Duty Today

Elements Turn Damp Frown on Baseball in Atlanta Thursday—First Game With Vols Rained Out.

Ray Francis, the next best thing to a left-handed ace-in-the-hole, will be set on the tee at Spiller's this afternoon with instructions to direct his very best portside shots at the Hamiltonian clan from Tennessee's capital. This will take place at 3 o'clock, which is the popular hour for such happenings.

When elements turned a damp frown on baseball in Atlanta Thursday, beginning about an hour before game time, the contest was called off. That gives Ray plenty consecutive days rest—almost as many as Birmingham has won games. So, he ought to be right.

In lieu of the game Thursday, there will be a pair of them Saturday. The first will begin at 2 o'clock.

Through the Memphis series, Bert Niehoff held his left handers in leash. Fowler—the ace, is well rested. So's Pug Cavet, but that doesn't mean anything.

And since Nashville is labelled fish for flips from the south side, Bert figures that he's been right strategic.

Waiver Limit Up.

Memphis, Tenn., June 23.—(P)—Announcement was made at Southern association headquarters here that the time limit for filing waivers for Mike Herrera, on whom waivers were asked by the Mobile club, had expired without claims.

Last Day

Thursday, it seems, entries for the annual city tennis tournament, which gets under way Saturday, were supposed to close promptly at 5:30 o'clock. Jack Mooney, in charge of registration, was besieged after that hour by numbers who wanted to enter and announced that players would be closed until 10 o'clock Friday morning—no later—to enter. Entrance fee must be forthcoming with the signing of the blank.

There are many players entered, and half of them will play on the Atlanta Tennis club's courts, with Sid Yancey in charge, and the other half on the Piedmont Park courts, with Jack Mooney in charge.

Spring Work Stopped.

Providence, R. I., June 23.—(P)—Norman S. Taber, chairman of the Brown Athletic council, announced today that Brown and Dartmouth had agreed to abandon spring football work. It has no special value, in the opinion of the coaches of both colleges.

Play Gets Under Way In Junior Net Tourney

Originally Slated for Monday, Held Up by Rain—Favorites in Junior and Boys' Division Win Matches.

Originally scheduled to begin on Monday, the junior and boys' city tennis tournament finally got under way Thursday morning on the new courts of the Atlanta Tennis club.

First round matches in both divisions were played with all favorites and seeded players coming through right side up.

The junior tournament is drawing the most interest and names of several formidable players appear in the brackets. First of all there is Bryan Grant, who made such a good showing in the tournament of the Carolinas at Greenville last week, defeating John Temple Graves, 1926 champion of the tournament.

Top Form.
Bryan is reaching top form in his game, and Thursday had an easy 6-0, 6-1 victory over James Fox.

Then there is Billy Dreger, recently crowned city prep champion. Dreger defeated Jack Boykin, one of the city's ranking juniors, in a hard battle for the prep title, and is one of the seeded players in the junior meet. He scored a fairly easy 6-3, 9-0 victory over Allan Ford Thursday.

Jack Boykin was not extended in order to win over Clarence Angier in Thursday's round, 6-0, 6-3, and is counted upon heavily to reach the semi-finals. Sid Goldin, another favorite, beat Frank Harris easily, 6-1, 6-0, in the Thursday round.

Provided the courts have dried sufficiently overnight play will be resumed today, and the junior doubles will also get under way.

Several good matches are booked in the junior singles second round. Chief among them the Boykin-J. Halverstadt set-to, and the McDaniel-Comife match.

First Round Results.

Upper Bracket.
James Halverstadt defeated Joe Horacek, 6-0, 6-2.

HUNDREDS AT BARN STORMING

THE MILL PLEASING MEXICAN RACE

Gainesville, Ga., June 23.—(Special.)—Hundreds of visitors attended the exercises today celebrating the opening of the Chicopee mill of Johnson & Johnson company, a memorial to the late John H. Johnson, president of the industrial expansion program of the company. The guests were carried through the huge new factory and were given the opportunity to inspect the modern mill village which the company has erected for its employees.

A. F. Clapham, of New Brunswick, N. J., president of the mill, and Charles A. McCormick, treasurer, attended the ceremonies and made short talks. Senator Walker A. George was the principal speaker at the exercises. Rev. D. A. Wauson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gainesville, pronounced the benediction, while Rev. C. G. Richardson, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, delivered the invocation.

Colonel C. F. Gaillard, prominent Gainesville citizen, on behalf of the citizens of Hall county, presented a silver pitcher to Mr. McCormick, and a silver bowl to Mr. Clapham, for presentation to Robert W. Johnson, vice president of Johnson & Johnson company, whom Mr. Clapham represented.

At noon today a barbecue constituted an important feature of the day's program, 1,500 guests having been invited to attend by Chicopee officials and local civic organizations.

Ground for the new mill was broken last November, and officials expect it to be turning out cloth by the first of October. The mill contains 40,000 spindles, and will employ between 600 and 800 workers. The main building is 34 feet long and 250 feet wide, and constructed with the most modern equipment of lighting, heating, and ventilation. The site covers five acres, and the company owns 54,000 acres in the district, to allow for expansion.

The homes of operatives are models of their kind, of brick veneer with complete electrical and water facilities. The streets are paved and the yards decorated with shrubs.

ENGINEERS HONOR WAYCROSS WOMAN

Waycross, Ga., June 23.—(Special.) Mrs. J. M. Fesperman, of Waycross, has been elected associate grand president of the auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The platform declares for a decrease in the "extraordinary" powers which congress each year votes to the president of Mexico; diminution of militarism and the army's political power; reduction of taxes; legislation improving the workers' condition; pure elections; protection of property and industry; educational improvement; and reforms in government administration.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

© 1926, BY CLARE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE

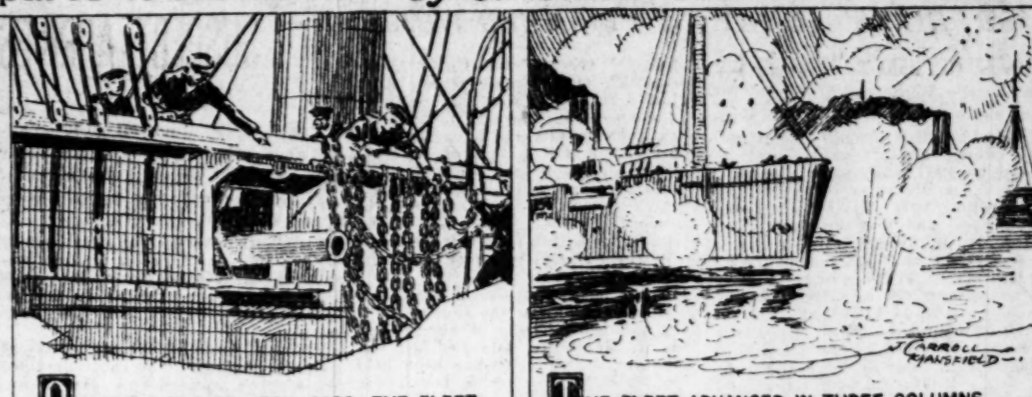

DECIDING TO ATTEMPT TO RUN PAST THE CONFEDERATE FORTS JACKSON AND ST. PHILIP. THAT GUARDED THE MISSISSIPPI BELOW NEW ORLEANS, FARRAGUT ON THE NIGHT OF APRIL 20, 1862, SENT THE STEAMERS "ITASCA" AND "PINOLA" FORWARD TO CUT THE CULM AND CHAIN BOOM THAT STRETCHED ACROSS THE RIVER BELOW THE FORTS.

AS THESE VESSELS APPROACHED THE BOOM THEY WERE OBSERVED BY THE ALERT CONFEDERATE Sentries AND A HEAVY FIRE WAS POURED UPON THEM FROM FORT JACKSON. THOUGH IN GREAT PERIL, SAILORS FROM THE "ITASCA" SUCCEEDED IN MAKING A BREAK IN THE BOOM NEAR THE LEFT BANK OF THE RIVER.

Farragut Prepares to Advance.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON THE NIGHT OF APRIL 23RD, THE FLEET PREPARED FOR A DASH PAST THE FORTS. THE SHIPS WERE STRIPPED FOR ACTION, AND HEAVY CHAINS SUSPENDED OVER THE SIDES, ABREAST THE ENGINES, FOR PROTECTION. THE STARTING SIGNAL (TWO RED LIGHTS) WAS GIVEN AND THE SQUADRON GOT UNDER WAY A LITTLE AFTER 3 O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING OF THE 24TH.

THE FLEET ADVANCED IN THREE COLUMNS. THE DIVISION LED BY CAPT. THEODORUS BAILEY (ABOARD THE "CAVAGO") WAS THE FIRST TO CLEAR THE OBSTRUCTIONS AND, RUNNING PAST THE FORTS THROUGH A TERRIBLE FIRE, EN-CAGED THE CONFEDERATE GUNBOAT FLOTILLA UNDER CAPTAIN MITCHELL AROUND THE BEND OF THE RIVER.

TOMORROW—FARRAGUT RUNS PAST THE FORTS.
